Description

If I create a new group in tiki-admingroups.php, and want to add a user, I must go to tiki-adminusers.php

I should be able to add users to groups from tiki-admingroups.php, with a drop-down (if < 500 users) or a search username box (if users > 500) , or something like this...

As per Tiki23 when the admin (or user when permissions) create a group he cannot from the same area add users to the same group. He had to move to the user area. It should be possible to create a group and the users you want right away. We have the tools so, a question of user interface ?

Please add details on how you see this with recent Tiki version.
