Description

tiki-contact.php is an "incomplete feature"

To be useful, it would need

A- An optional "from" field for visitor's email (some people leave comments and ask for a reply but they forget to leave their email. A specific field for email would help so people don't forget.

B- An option for the visitor to receive a copy of the message.

C- Subject should be used in title of internal message. Assuming the subject is "Question about forums"

Current:

New message arrived from tikiwiki.org

Proposed:

New message arrived from tikiwiki.org (Question about forums)

It is possible to do all this with trackers. So is worth improving this feature or better to document trackers? Related: Trackers Examples
