Description
I just upgraded from 2.0 to 3.0 and discovered a problem with posting in blogs. The problem before was that users selecting "POST" from the main menu could post in anyone's blogs, even those who selected that no one could post in their blogs. Now the problem is they get an error message that says they do not have permission to post, even if it is their own blog. They can only post in their blogs if they do a "list blogs" and then use the pencil icon to post.

In summary:

1. Users can create a blog
2. Users can list the blogs and click the pencil icon to post in their blog.
3. Users cannot post in their blogs by clicking "POST" from the main menu.

Could you write steps to reproduce this bug?
