Description
The problem is when you create a tracker and you allow Rating on it.
Then you can add new items, but when you try to edit an existing item, the last field of the tracker is never saved.

this line is commented (line 152 of tiki-view_tracker_item.php)

if ($xfields["data"][$i]['type'] == 's') { //$ins_fields["data"][$i] = $xfields["data"][$i];
$fields["data"][$i] = $xfields["data"][$i]; }

so))$ins_fields0((becomes an empty index in this array because the field 'Rating' is of type 's' (system).

Later in the function 'replace_tracker(...)' of trackerlib, ins_fields are parsed inside a loop from 0 to size of ins_fields - 1, so the last item is never seen.

I don't know exactly with somebody commented the line, but it works for me if I uncomment it.

Solution

I remember that problem.. but can't reproduce it now.. and I can't find that piece of code...

Fixed?

As per Tracker-Field-Types we don't have (anymore?) a tracker field type == "s" + the Star rating (system) display is deprecated.
