I like experimenting with layout ideas, etc. and so will make a Tiki theme based on the Blueprint framework. The theme stylesheet will import blueprint.css and will keep other styling to a minimum so we can see the pure effect as much as possible. It won't be practical to add Blueprint classes to Tiki's templates but, where possible, the Blueprint class properties will be added to Tiki's classes in the theme stylesheet. I'll make a demo and a doc page at themes.tikiwiki.org, and a notice here, when it's ready to have a look at.
