Description
There was a revamp of URL Rewriting Revamp in Tiki11, but after the revamp, we found edge cases.

Adding them to logs would be easy and make sure we find anything left.

Also, things like http://dev.tiki.org/abcdef.php should
• offer a nice error message
• be logged so we know about broken links
• Offer a search box (if search is activated) with content of the URL in it?

Solution
added in r48302 but because this happens before tiki is loaded it logs to the standard php error log, which is usually the error log.

@Nelson: ok, thanks. If there is a way to also have in Tiki logs, that would be better, because that is where the average Tiki admin will look, and we could envision some alerts.
