Description

Seen here: <http://tiki.org/Conference+Call>

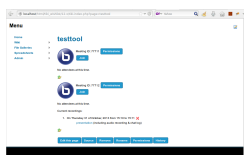

But the plugin has: recording="0"

Solution

I had checked this issue on both trunk and 12.x.

It's working.

Please check this screen shot(with and without recording)

@Mani: that's great, but <http://tiki.org/Conference+Call> has two recordings from August 2013 and page hasn't been edited since February 2012. Any idea if it's a bug fixed between 11 and 12? or something else? If you have no idea, I'll just close the ticket. Thanks!

Updated:

This issue fixed by lphuberdeau and check this commit id: 47865

ENH Remove some duplication, make sure recordings are enabled for the room before loading them to reduce confusion after disabling recording @Mani: Thanks!

Not enough details.

If recording was previously enabled on the room, the room was accessed and then recording was disabled, it's expected that recordings will remain enabled until the room is "closed" by BBB. Recording is one of those settings that is set at creation and persists afterwards, just like voice bridge and all other room parameters.

As for recordings displaying, it's unrelated from recordings being activated.

As you can see from history, recording was never activated:
tiki-pagehistory.php?page=Conference+Call

Thanks!

I'm testing right now with the new BBB with 2 different rooms. One setup with recording and a seperate room setup without recording.

I'll see soon what the results are
