Description

Since june 2014 or so I see every now and then on a few 12.x production sites error pages indicating that no route was found.

The urls that produce this false message are valid urls (such as tiki-admin.php?page=look&cookietab=2), and the solution is just to reload the same page, and it always work at the second time.

I'm sorry I didn't understand better what is causing this issue, or how to reproduce it more consistently.

Maybe all cases are with users with admin rights? But I don't know for sure.

It is a bit worrying to be affected from this issue every now and then in production sites with our LTS version. I hope some dev can get better ideas on where to look at in order to get it solved...
