Description
I upgraded a large site to Tiki 13.1 because it is responsive. Put tons of hours into the upgrade. Now the site looks as it should but cannot edit or create a new page!

This was marked as a stable release. Please get it fixed so I can deliver the site.

Solution
Fixed by removing class="col-sm-12" from the edit form. This class gave the float property to the form. There was no clearfix, so the pagebottom modules rose up and overlapped the form.

Commits r53439 (branch 13) and r53440 (trunk) should fix it. Here's the link to the Tiki 13 fixed file:
