Description

Hi all,

sorry if is completely wrong what I do... (and maybe entered above), but I'm totally new to Tiki and installed the 14beta to get an impression, as -seen from my requirements list- Tiki14final is what I want to use live. So I'm really testing around - and thought this may not only help me, but also you. Okay, enough introduction.

I created a forum and tried to add more forums by copy the existing one. Maybe I did something wrong, but to me everything seems to work in the process - there was just no new forum in the end.

Thanks for taking care and

best regards

Uli

Hi Uli,

I did reset the admin password of your show-instance to 12345, as it's the only way, we can access and check the bug (or error 40) .

More then in the comments.

Hi,

yes, I'm german - and the DETUG page is already opened. 😊

The snapshot is stored at <http://ulsc-11756-5629.show.tikiwiki.org/snapshots/> in case you need it.

By the way: To me it didn't work either, so obviously either a problem of me or of Tiki, but not of my installation.

Schöne Grüße

Uli

Hi Uli,

I have played a bit with your show instance - confirmed the bug and commented in the wishlist Team area - sadly I cannot fix by myself (not-coder).

do we really need this feature? I mean setting up a forum is a one minute task and it does not happen often that you duplicate a forum, I would just remove this

Well, if such function is there to clone a forum with it's settings that's fine.
If there is no such function it's no problem.
If there is a fuction that doesn't work it's a problem - in my understanding.
But in fact I wouldn't invest too much time for it, creating forums is a one time setup task. Other functions are much more important!

Best regards
Uli
