Description

I don't know whether it's a regression or not.

There is a feature called "Show user's real name instead of login in autocomplete selector in trackers feature" (Admin/Config Wizard > Community General Settings). I ensured that the user field in the tracker is set to display realname also instead of username. The feature works when listing items through the tracker itself of plugin trakerlist, etc., but ...

....it does not do the job at the autocomplete selector for the filtering of items.

See it reproduced here:
