Description

If I recall correctly, in the past when you're making a menu and adding menu options, the options' position incremented automatically by 10, so it wasn't something you needed to pay attention to. Making a menu in Tiki 15.2, with this assumption, I didn't edit the position number, and found that sometimes the number increased by 10 and sometimes it didn't. I don't see a pattern for when it increments and when it doesn't.
