Description

I get a 404 error while switching from http://dev.tiki.org/tiki-utilities-modal_alert?controller=tracker&action=update_item&fullscreen=n, into full screen mode. That is the page that one is redirected to (and populated with information, unlike if you just navigate to it) That one finds themselves on after updating a bug report.

Ive tried to re-create it by navigating directly to that url, and the 404 does not appear. Im presuming the page content plays a role in this.

Solution

I cant reproduce this error any longer. Closing it to keep the books tidy. I presume its not an issue any longer.
