Description

In version 9.11, creating a Workspace using Perspectives and Category Jail would permit a user to view a tracker and all of its tracker items when that tracker was categorized appropriately. Upon upgrading to version 12.11, the tracker is still visible to users within the Perspective, but the "View Items" page does not list any items. The items are still accessible and editable by the user if they know the Item ID or have links to them, but they cannot be browsed. The item count will show correctly when viewing the list of trackers, but the tracker itself will report that it contains 0 items when viewing the items list.

Hi David, can you reproduce this bug in a tiki 17 show instance? It really helps the people who many fix this bug. It will also confirm that it has not alreday been fixed in a more recent version.

After confirming the bug is still an issue in tiki 17 and demonstrating it, if your able to find the commit nubmer that caused the regression, the changes of a speedy fix are much higher. See <https://dev.tiki.org/How+to+figure+out+what+revision+number+causes+a+bug> for instructions on how to do that.
