Description

FYI, the implementation of Plugin TrackerCalendar in trunk (with the new lib installed through packages) doesn't allow the user any more to move an item from the row corresponding to one resource towards the row corresponding of another resource.
Tested with the "Collaborative Community" profile.

We are looking into this. This is a side effect of the major change to replace the abandoned lib:
<https://sourceforge.net/p/tikiwiki/code/66298>

Resolution may or may not arrive in time for 19.0 so to the release manager: don't slow anything down because of this regression. It's not the usual case where regular caused a regression and we just need to fix or revert.

Xavi, I guess this is a Tiki19 issue now. Ok to edit the title of the ticket ?

Hi all,

I've just pushed the fix to the 19.x branch.

Just tested in trunk. Works. Since 19.x and trunk are so close, I am confident it's OK there too
