Description

When the TRACKERITEMFIELD plugin is called trying to access a tracker item which does not exist, a fatal error like the following occurs:

```
Fatal error: Call to a member function getConfiguration() on boolean in

Objects which contain such calls cannot be viewed, and reindexing for search is also broken.

This happens since r37583 and persists in trunk r68584.

Solution

This needs a modification in wikiplugin_trackeritemfield.php to display a "Tracker item does not exist" message, but there's surely something which could be improved in Tracker_Item::fromInfo() too. That function should throw an exception making the problem clear, not return a bogus object.
