Description

Firstly, congrats there seems to be a marked performance improvement when running tiki-stats.php in v18.3 over v15.7.

We are seeing two issues with the new tiki-stats.php on our upgraded system.

With v15.7 the statistic "Day with the fewest pageviews" reported only a single entry, which was the FIRST date on which the lowest number was seen.

See

Site Stats
Time of last pageview	Monday 10:41 of April, 2018
Days since last pageview	0 days
Total pageviews	10000000
Average pageviews per day (year)	27397
Day with the most pageviews	Wednesday 20 of August, 2017 (10000000)
Day with the fewest pageviews	Monday 10:41 of April, 2018 (0)
Wiki Stats
Wiki Pages	10000

With v18.3 the same statistic now seems to report EVERY date on which our system has had minimal activity, which is making the page extremely long. This issue of increased page length is exasperated by the repeating of some dates.

and

My wish would be to have only the first and most recent day with fewest pageviews reported within tiki-stats.php

If the full list is useful to others, then perhaps it should have its own page linked from tiki-stats.php

I've rated this with importance 5 as we use this feature on a daily basis to see what the activity has been over the past 24 hours, but recognise others may never use it.
