Description

It would be good to make the 'User' (i.e. user name) a required field when adding a new Tiki User (Admin Users)

Recently, I tested adding a new user without this (left blank), but added the password (2x) and an email. Tiki went the the next step, 'Confirm adding new user', then went to the full user list. Of course it was not visible anywhere in the full list of users (only one page, under 10 users total).

Also, it might make sense to change the name from 'user' to 'user name', or even more direct 'login'.

Mike
