Description

I've upgraded today to latest 20.x (to r71082, from svn code from 1-2 months ago or so) and attempting to insert wiki code to display a file in a wiki page (just after file upload) fails: not the full syntax is written, just "file", and no fileId either.
File seems to get uploaded successfully indeed, but the popup helper (open through the toolbar icon to upload files) fails to display the information that the file was uploaded successfully, not to insert the right syntax to that file.

Reproduced with updated Firefox and Chrome, on Ubuntu GNU/Linux 64 bits (in case it matters)
And reproduced in dev.t.o also (provided that the tool `tikifile` has been added to the editor toolbar.

Using standard file gal interface (not elfinder), and standard wiki editor toolbar, and using toolbar icon `tikifile`.
Same process to upload images works as usual, as expected.
