Description
    Hello everyone. Right now i am experiencing an issue while trying to upload a file using the the {FILES} plugin.

    What i did

    1. I created a page and added the {FILES} plugin inside of it.

        {files galleryId="9" sort="name_desc" showtitle="n" showicon="y" showname="y" showfilename="n" showdescription="y" showmodified="n" showmodtimedate="n" showthumb="n" showupload="y" showaction="y" showid="n" showcreated="y"}

    1. Then i added a simple .txt file by clicking the "browse.. " button.

    1. By click the "Upload" button i receive a blank page with url `/tiki-upload_file.php`

tiki-syslog.php output

1. For my upload attempt i get this message

Request to /tiki-ajax_services.php failed CSRF check. Ticket does not match or is missing.

1. When i try to enter into tiki-syslog.php i receive this log message

Request to /tiki-syslog.php failed CSRF check. Requesting site could not be identified because HTTP_ORIGIN and HTTP_REFERER were empty.

To be honest i don't know if those 2 messages are connected somehow

Server Info

- Release: Debian GNU/Linux 10 (buster)
- Database Version: 10.3.23-MariaDB-0+deb10u1
- PHP version: 7.3.19-1
- upload_max_filesize : 64M
- upload_tmp_dir: Unknown

Solution

I think i've fixed this in 22.x in c9068326 - can you test it in that version? If it seems ok i'll backport it to 21.x

I updated the wiki_files.tpl with your latest commit (still in version 21.x) and it works! Thank you very much.

But the error:

> Request to /tiki-syslog.php failed CSRF check. Requesting site could not be identified because HTTP_ORIGIN and HTTP_REFERER were empty.

At url:

> /tiki-syslog.php

Maybe its a different issue

Great, thanks for the feedback, i've pushed that fix to 21.x and trunk now so hopefully this can be closed now?

The tiki-syslog.php is a different thing i think...

Thank you very much once again. Yes i will close it now. 😃
I will create another wish for the tiki-syslog.php issue.
