I think this is because at some point we have switched from using the old wiki page file attachments system to the newer file gallery storage one, and there is a bug in plugin img where the `attId` param gets used as the `fileId` - should be fixable...

Could it be that this is also the reason why migrating image gallery files doesn't work? The files get copied over, but the wiki pages pointing to them yield error messages as soon as you shut down the image gallery...

So if `feature_use_fgal_for_wiki_attachments` is the issue: any idea if we can safely revert that preference until code is OK?

Thanks!

Sounds good to me, the only drawback (if my theory is correct) is that any added since the change will now break, but i bet that's fewer than were there before.

Marc Laporte 28 Jun 21 23:55 GMT-0000

Done.

It fixed pages like:

<https://doc.tiki.org/Calendar-Invitations-by-email>

<https://doc.tiki.org/PluginMemberPayment>

I don't know what it broke, if anything.

This is one more reason why we shouldn't have duplicate functionality. We'll finish the merge into file galleries and deprecate, and later remove old way.
