Description

Unverified bug . New install of 1.9.10.1 in subdirectory, e.g. <http://my.domain.com/subdir>

After typing in admin/admin to login for the first time, I was redirected to http://my.domain.com/tiki-change\_password.php instead of the expected http://my.domain.com/subdir/tiki-change\_password.php.

Solution

Workaround is to manually add in the subdir in the URL.

The issue is that the calendar should not be shown at all if there are no calendars. The existence of calendar cells is misleading. tiki-calendar.php should just create a calendar (named Default) with same defaults as tiki-admin_calendars.php if there are no calendars in the system.

Are you able to reproduce this problem with a current version?
