Description
I'd like to see some sort of an "autosave". That way when you're engaged in editing a really lengthy page, it will save itself periodically. For those of us that have flaky internet connections, this would be a huge boon. My edits wouldn't necessarily be lost if my internet connection goes pouf for a few minutes.

Solution
It should be an interval that's configurable by the admin and the user. The admin sets the maximum frequency (5 minutes) and the user can set to be less frequent (say 10 minutes)

I think there is a page draft feature in 1.10 which autosaves, using AJAX
