

External Libraries

See also: How to pick a software library

Now that we have moved to Composer, the libs are here:

- https://gitlab.com/tikiwiki/tiki/-/blob/master/vendor_bundled/composer.json
- <http://composer.tiki.org/>

This page is in draft and is missing lots of information. To have complete list, you need to review the source:

https://svn.code.sf.net/p/tikiwiki/code/third_party/component_version_listing.txt?view=markup

<http://svn.code.sf.net/p/tikiwiki/code/trunk/lib/>

https://svn.code.sf.net/p/tikiwiki/code/third_party/

https://svn.code.sf.net/p/tikiwiki/code/third_party/Zend-Revision-Map.txt

This page is intended to list information about all the external libraries used in Tiki. Libraries must respect Tiki's License. Also see: Interoperability and List of projects tagged 'tikiwiki' on Ohloh.net

Here is a list of projects which are identified as "bundled in Tiki"

Tiki relies on:

- PHP scripting language
- Smarty template engine
- MySQL or MariaDB databases
- Zend Framework
- jQuery JavaScript library

Status to be determined

Either the lib is no longer maintained, or it can be replaced by something more modern, or it's no longer relevant to the web today.

Mouse over / popups / tooltips

overLIB 4.21 was released on 2005-7-05

Partially replaced by jQuery in 4.0 but `{if $prefs.feature_community_mouseover eq 'y'}` `{popup_init` src="lib/overlib.js"}{/if} remains in tiki.tpl (as of 2010-03-06)

RSS feeds

Feedcreator not maintained. Replace by Zend Framework?

JSCalendar

author wrote:

Download the latest version 1.0, released back in 2005. I'm sorry, I kind of lost interest in this project; as far as I'm concerned, it has everything it needs. If you still use this product, feel free to leave me a note here
