Description

If the session times out during use of the "contact us" form, and the anon user doesn't have perms to use the form, the message is simply dropped and no error message is displayed. (Even if you had the error message, the cache is set wrong, so that you have to retype the message, but that's another bug I posted a few days ago, with a nice link to how Drupal fixed it).

Solution

Display a very in-your-face error message that the message was not sent.
