Description

Workflow.tikiwiki.org is running 1.9.8.3. I was playing around with InterTiki settings and enabled pulling of UserPrefs from the master site. I know on the mater site, my particular user ID has privacy turned on such that my information is not visible to users.

When I go to wf.tw.o as an anonymous user, I can hover my cursor over a user (such as myself) and it will show a box with my information...email address, location, etc. When I try and do the same on the tw.o master site, I get "user information is private" or something.

I'm wondering if there is a bug or oversight with InterTiki where it is not pulling all of the user preferences, and if that is the case, if someone can fix it so that privacy settings are honoured?

Thanks!
