Description
    Calendar has been great for a while now as an event calendar. But what about for appointments?

    For this use, notifications would be sweet. I would like to be able to configure an email reminder before an event (+ a pop-up if user is logged in.)

    Time of email reminder should be configurable per event. Sometimes, I want a reminder 15 minutes before. Sometimes, I want 3 days. I could configure to send an email (or SMS) to my phone.

    I guess we'd need a cron job for this to work efficiently.

    Related: Watch calendar (receive email notication of changes)
