Go to <http://www.google.com/webfonts>. Choose one or more fonts.

Get the code. One bit is a link to fonts.googleapis.com for the font(s). This can either go in the HTML head section or be called by an @import statement in a Tiki stylesheet. The second bit is the font-family name to be added in the appropriate places in the Tiki stylesheet (as the font-family property of h1 or .box-title or whatever).

There is no admin selector but each theme can set the font.

You can use the following to detect font:

<https://addons.mozilla.org/en-US/firefox/addon/font-finder/>
