Description

When Posting to a blog through the xmlrpc.php, I can connect to the server and post all content to the chosen blog, but I can't add title text. From blogtk (linux), I can't even see the title field in white (fillable) but in grey (unfillable, non-available). Si can't even write the title text from blogtk.

From gnome-blog-poster, I can insert text in the local form, but after I submit the post, the content is saved correctly but not the title content.

I selected a checkbox at the section "Version" from this tracker (v 1.9.x). After submitting, this checked box is not recorded,

It happened something similar to me yesterady, reporting a bug reproduced in 1.8.x and 1.9.x. After submitting, the record sais as if I was checked only one checkbox at that section.

Please retest with a recent version of Tiki. Here is a potential client:
