Description

Consequently gets an error on this plugin using 2.1 on a Windows machine. Error message from a what I am sure is a proper trackerlist reference is:

ErrorError

No field indicated

Found out this was an issue related to not making the referenced fields public. I would suggest the documentation is clearer on this issue in the trackerlist documentation. Will have a look at the documentation.

Solution

Updated the plugin documentation. It now reads: "This plugin for trackers enables you to display a report of the listed items of a tracker. You can choose which fields you want to display, you can display status of the item, and you have the opportunity to filter the items. Only fields registered as public are available through the plugin."
