Description

When the system is set up to use staging & approval and the Structures are turned on, pages/topics created using the Add Page feature included with Structures get created with a staging name. The structure fails/disappears when the page is approved (fails in that the structure loses the staging name and does NOT substitute in the page without the staging name).

Solution

Have staging check and update structures on approval.

OR (possibly better)

Create the Structure with the page name and NOT the staging name.

Workaround

Staging and approval was never designed to be used with structures. Maybe in a future release, when the feature is rewritten to take into account this.
