Description

When I try to create new group I receive this error from MySQL:

Error

An error occured in a database query!

Context:
File tiki-admingroups.php
Url tiki-admingroups.php
Query:
insert into `users_groups` (`groupName`, `groupDesc`,
`groupHome`,`groupDefCat`,`groupTheme`,`usersTrackerId`,`groupTrackerId`,
`registrationUsersFieldIds`, `userChoice`, `usersFieldId`, `groupFieldId`) values(?,?,?,?,?,?,?,?,?,?,?)
Values:
0 ffff
1
2
3 0
4
5 0
6 0
7
8
9
10

Message:
Incorrect integer value: '' for column 'usersFieldId' at row 1
Built query was probably:
insert into `users_groups` (`groupName`, `groupDesc`,
`groupHome`,`groupDefCat`,`groupTheme`,`usersTrackerId`,`groupTrackerId`,
`registrationUsersFieldIds`, `userChoice`, `usersFieldId`, `groupFieldId`)
values('ffff',,,'0',,'0','0',,,,'')

Solution

Fix the default values in add_goup in the userslib.php.

It's done in r19412 for trunk and proposed in r19413 for future Tiki v 3.1. This release should occur in the next days.

You can fix by yourself by applying that patch

Thanks for the bug report.

when I do it I don't even get an error in "Message"

I tried it in the database. The problem is that usersFieldId and groupFieldId are integer fields and should be getting NULL not ''

This page gives us an idea:
https://trac.cakephp.org/ticket/5141
The problem is that the code here (which may come from some library, I didn't check it) relies on being able to set an integer column to '' and have it take 0, which is a weird traditional behaviour of MySQL.

This behaviour is forbidden by the MySQL "strict" mode which is recommended in the installation.

If you run the MySQL Server Instance Config Wizard and turn off the "strict" setting, this problem will go away.

That said I think TikiWiki or the libraries it depends on should be rewritten to work with strict mode.
