Description
In a file gallery (at a url like tiki-list_file_gallery.php?view=browse&galleryId=2), when I click on a thumbnail to see the image in a colorbox popup, there are no navigation controls in the box for the first image clicked. If I close that image and click a second thumbnail, the controls are there and I can navigate to next, previous, etc. It doesn't matter which image is tried first on a fresh page load; the first one clicked always is missing the controls. I'm seeing this in r22284 (Oct 13) but have noticed it for at least several days, in Firefox and Opera.

If I click on image 3 (for example), as the second image clicked on, to get the controls, the controls only include images 1-3, not the images after 3 in the gallery.

BTW, same problems (concerning controls) whether the view is thumb clicked on browse gallery, or slideshow link is clicked.
