Description

Creating a new file-gallery in the root directory works for admin, but users with permission get an error upon clicking 'create new file gallery'

Message was

Notice: invalid variable value: $_GET["parentId"] = -1

From what I understand -1 stands for the root directory.

TikiWiki Version 3.2:

The error is produced in file tiki-setup_base.php on line 259

The code tries to validate the '-1' as an integer variable. Defined by the

$vartype array -> $vartype['parentId'] = 'int';

The according $patterns array describes it as

$patterns['int'] = "/^[0-9]*$/"; // *Id

Obviously the sign "-" is missing.

Therefore the check for a valid variable fails and the user can't create a new file gallery.

Why the admin group is not affected I do not know.

Workaround

For a workaround it helped to set the

$vartype['parentId'] = 'int'; to $vartype['parentId'] = 'intSign';

making the "-1" a valid value. But I can't tell if this has any side effects
