Description

As admin I view `_article_`, then click on the "Multilingual globe". This brings the translation page. At the bottom I select new language and press "Change language" button. All I receive is "Page not found" error.

Solution

There are two issues.

- tiki-edit_translation.php thinks that we were changing wiki page and not article
- while translating article, tiki-edit_translation.php requires to pass article id and not page name as it happens now.

I fixed it locally in tiki-edit_translation.tpl, on line 134. I replaced this:

<input type="hidden" name="page" value="{ $name|escape}"/>

by this:

<input type="hidden" name="id" value="{ $id|escape}"/>

<input type="hidden" name="type" value="{ $type|escape}"/>

I'm sorry, I can't post patch, as I'm on windows and I don't know how to diff two files 😊

This was fixed in r30850, which will be released in 6.1. Thank you.
