Event limit for calendar_new module

Description
The calendar_new module does not display event links or popup boxes after a certain point in the month view when there are many events in a given month. The links and popups re-appear in week view or in month view if fewer calendars are aggregated into the mini-calendar. If an event is deleted in one of the aggregated calendars, the mini-calendar will show an additional day of links/popups. The problem appears to be associated with the number of events that must be displayed, although I cannot verify this. The links and popups disappear after about 35-50 events have been displayed.

Solution
Edited two lines shown below in lib/calendar/calendarlib.php to allow for 255 events (probably could be larger if necessary)

```php
//FIXME : maxrecords = 255
$listtikievents = $this->list_items_by_day($calIds, $user, $viewstart, $viewend, 0, 255);
```

Workaround
There is no good workaround. The php code in lib/calendar/calendarlib.php should be modified to allow for more events to be displayed. The current hard-coded limit of 50 is too small.

Importance
7
