Description
    Forum last posts module gives the following Notice errors on top of tiki-objectpermissions.php page and messes up the font size of permissions list.

    Notice: Undefined index: forumId in ../proposed/5.x/lib/core/lib/Perms.php on line 185

    Notice: Undefined index: forumId in ../proposed/5.x/lib/core/lib/Perms.php on line 229

    For every topic created you will get another 2 of those Notices.
    When there are 100 forum topics not that hard to get you will need to scroll down 200 lines of notices just to edit a few permissions.

    Reproduce:
    Turn on feature forum
    Asign forum last posts module
    Create a forum and a topic

    One of the notices i got is fixed in Revision 29138
    Notice: Use of undefined constant ttz - assumed 'ttz' in ../proposed/5.x/lib/tikilib.php on line 7682

Solution
    Thank you, I fixed this in r29334. Tiki 6 will have this fixed.

The notice about ttz is strange. Which exact Tiki version do you use?

Lusserall 11 Sep 10 21:48 GMT-0000

I was trying proposed 5.x
Revision: 29104

Was checking if those notices had changed but just saw that last one is new only have first 2 notices with 5.1 release version.

Thank you much, I fixed the problem about ttz, which is unrelated to the rest.

I can't reproduce the main problem. I get the notices, but no font size problems. Are you able to reproduce from a fresh installation?

Main problem is the notices it,s rather anoying if you want to change a few permissions specialy when you have allot of forum topics.

100 topics 200 lines of notices to scroll down

second is the font size of the list of permissions
it gets a few times bigger.
I get this with a fresh installation

Philippe Cloutier 14 Sep 10 17:02 GMT-0000

OK, I understand what you mean now, but I didn't reproduce. Could you give detailed steps to reproduce?

Lusserall 15 Sep 10 11:26 GMT-0000

After fresh installation go to
Admin -> features
Turn on feature forums
Then go to
Admin -> modules
Ad module forums_last_posts to the side panel then to
Forums -> admin forums -> create/edit forums
Create a forum
Then create adleast one topic in that forum and go to
Admin -> permisions

I attached 3 screenshots showing the problem.

OK, I see what you mean, but it's not clear why those notices show on top. What settings do you have in the Logs and reports section of the first tab of the General admin panel?
The notices you have should normally display at the bottom of the page, when you click "Show PHP error messages". Do you use a different theme?

Lusserall 15 Sep 10 21:17 GMT-0000

Only filled in email adress and site name with fresh installation.
Settings are all standard.

PHP Error reporting level: No error reporting

All themes that come with tiki 5.1 have the notices on top of the page.

Client:
Ubuntu karmic
Firefox 3.6.9
Opera 10.62.6438
Chrome 6.0.472.59-r59126

Server:
Ubuntu lucid
Apache 2.2.14
Php 5.3.2
Mysql 5.1.41

Do you see the "Show PHP error messages" button at the bottom? If not, does changing the value of PHP Error reporting level to report notices change things?

Lusserall 15 Sep 10 21:39 GMT-0000

There is no "Show PHP error messages" button at the bottom

When changing the value of PHP Error reporting level to report notices.
Then there is a button at the bottom and the notices have moved to there and the font size is normal again.

Lusserall 15 Sep 10 21:49 GMT-0000

PHP Error reporting level: Report all php errors
Notices moved to bottom viewable by pressing the button

Setting:
PHP Error reporting level: Report all php errors except notices
Notices are back ad top of page and no button ad bottom
