Description
When using tiki-admin_transitions.php.

If I add a Transition, then tiki will not let me modify it (by Edit) since every icon (i e: Edit) will delete the Transition. Even If I click in "Guards" data (wich appears as a "0").

Also the yellow "Key" icon doesn´t turn green as is supposed to, after setting perms.

May be other anomalies.

Please help

Using Tiki 6.0 fresh Install.

New Edit:

Since I didn´t find any reference on how to use it, I´m exploring it myself.

What I did before I was stopped by this error is:

1. I Set up some Categories
2. Go to the tiki-admin_transitions.php. The Subset Tab is on and it shows me two options: 1. Category 2. Group
3. Click on Category, so it show the availabre Categories

4. Choose two categories, then click Select button. It reloads the page.
5. Click on New/Edit tab
6. Write a label: "New"
7. Chosse From and To options
8. Click SAVE. It goes to the List of Transitions
9. If I click on Edit icon, it deletes de transition and goes to the New/Edit tab, but empty... nothing selected or filled.
If I click the Guards (number 0) it does the same

If I change to the List, the transitios has dessapeared from it.

Solution
Can you please retest in Tiki15 or Tiki12 at least?
They may be currently working as expected. Thanks!

Workaround
Dissabling Ajax works as it should.

This report came to a surprise as that code has been working for over 6 months and did not get any modifications since.

I will agree there are usability issues, but those can't be fixed in minor releases, and certainly not by me.

I was able to:

- Create transitions
- Edit transitions
- Add guards (the 0, by the way, is the count)

As for the key not changing color, that's actually just not implemented.

Could you detail a bit more what and how you are trying to use the interface?

rodrigososa 04 Dec 10 22:26 GMT-0000

If I click on the Edit icon, it goes to : tiki-admin_transitions.php?action=new&cookietab=2#main

Then it deletes the transition and jumps to the New/Edit empty tab.

I can give you a user and a pass If you want to see it.

I can also send you the php file, or the files you tell me.

Thanks,

Rodrigo

Do you have any modifications on the file? Otherwise I don't see the purpose of attaching it.

Otherwise, your steps seem to be fine.

I looked at the code and I don't understand how the behavior you describe is possible. I certainly cannot reproduce it.

Is this on a new installation or an upgrade?

Did you clear the Tiki caches and your browser's cache?

Did you try with the AJAX feature off?

rodrigososa 08 Dec 10 17:16 GMT-0000

thanks Louis-Phillipe,

you have lead me to point. It is the Ajax feature.

If I turn it Off it works well.

But the Ajax is needed.

Question? is there a doc that tells how to use the Transitions? I can´t figure it out only by seeing the interfase.

Thanks,

Rodrigo

I just wrote a small piece. Not much, but feel free to improve it as you explore.

I guess the part you might have been missing is that you need to set-up a module for transitions to be usable.
