Description
When you edit a banning rule, that rule gets deleted (at least, from the list at the Banning interface in Tiki).

To reproduce:

• go to tiki-admin_banning.php
• add a rule for this ip "91.201.66.6" (real ip of spammers, btw) with the title "91.201.66.6_regular_spammers"
• Check all features
• Check the setting to activate the rule by dates
• Select the maximum possible time frame (btyw, this only allows selecting within the same year: reported by somebody else already in another bug report; see bug3643)
• add some custom message
• save
• click at the title of your rule in order to have it open for edition again for you
• the rule is deleted from the list of rules, and the edit interface is empty confirmed in two different tiki from different servers... (btw, 5.x is also affected)

Solution
This is fixed for Tiki 7 in r33917.
