Description

Import HTML: in wiki edit page should be option (ideally a perm). Option is there but it's not working

Solution

The options that remains there is the "Import page", puts as page an uploaded file, and is shown only to users that have the admin wiki permission. For non admin users the option is not shown.

There is an option for allowing Import HTML and that one is working, but there are no special permission to choose what users can access that functionality.
