Description
Nowadays the voting on forums is confusing in educational or e-democracy scenarios, since it's not easy to understand why a voting of 1 makes just 0.40, or a voting of 5 make 1.60, etc. as it may happen nowadays, since voting on forums seems to be linked to karma or score system.

There should be an option to unlink them, so that a vote of 1, makes 1, and an option of 5 makes 5 to be included in the mean which is shown at the end on the rate value.

I would prefer that users get points simply for adding comments to the forum (e.g. in the score admin window I could enter a value in 'users post to forum'. Give users 1 point for each comment.
