Description

I confirm that I saw this serious issue in a production site of myself using tiki 10.x (svn r44603). This site of mine was upgraded in early january from tiki 9.x svn to 10.x svn. And nowadays when uploading some jpg images, they are not displayed, the image name seems to be truncated the extension (foo.jpg is converted into foo, it seems). And the error message in my case indicates a valid path (as it was working fine for a year in the server, etc.; no changes on that side; I doubled checked and perms are fine for apache to write in those folders, etc).

The hash corresponding to the file (as indicated in the error message shown in the browser) does not exist in the server, so it seems that the file does not get uploaded to that folder.

I can provide more details (or even maybe access to my production server) to some dev willing to debug this issue.

I started to see report in the user forums in t.o about (potentially) similar issues. Example: https://tiki.org/tiki-view_forum_thread.php?forumId=6&comments_parentId=45767&thread_sort_mode=commentDate_asc#comments

Workaround

The issue with images that I experienced has been fixed by jonnyb in r44666 (trunk) and r44667 (10.x)
<http://sourceforge.net/p/tikiwiki/code/44667>

In the end the problem seems to be with image resize in one file gallery, not with local perms (the image was deleted after the resize, it seems).
