Description
    Hello,

    Here is a wish in regards to my learning curve.

    I heard that Tiki is good at allowing others to create forms.

    Here is the print screen of __this form_, which is quite impressive.

Report a Bug

Please: This is where to report problems / bugs with production releases of Tiki.
If you have observed a security problem, please read the Security page before submitting a wishlist item or discussing the problem in an open forum!
If you run into a problem in copies of pre-release versions, the so-called trunk version, or the Daily Build, report these on the Regressions in 11x page.

Do you code? Maybe you could commit your fix directly? Read How to get commit access.

This is free and Open Source software. Thank you for joining the community and volunteering your time to report an issue. All the other members of the community are also volunteers. If you need something fixed quickly, you can hire one of the Tiki consultants.

If this is your first time, please read: How to submit a new item on the wishlist.

- When there are several checkboxes, please check all that apply.
- Has your bug or feature request been reported already? Select a keyword from the list in the right column to see the feature specific bugs that have been reported.

If you want to capture a screenshot of your desktop or record a screencast, please do so via the Screencast tool (New in Tiki 10). If you capture a screenshot, you can even Draw on it!

If you want to upload one or several files (php, tpl, etc) you will have the opportunity as a second step after this form.

Description

I'm actually _the Tiki's most populare Newbie_ as I am still learning the basics about Tiki.

Here is my panel box of what my form, the only one I have looks alike on my admin panel

Is there a video somewhere that shows how to create (this actual form I'm using to communicate this need) a form?

Daniel.
