Description

Idea 1: A fresh install should be with u: admin p: 12345

Pros:

- Saves time
- Increases chance that contributors will know the admin password

Cons

- What if we want to test initial password changing? (It's an edge case)

What do you think?

Idea 2: From the show.tiki.org tracker field, there should be a way to reset the password (for registered accounts)

Pros:

- So if password was changed, any user can access the Tiki and help with configuration

Cons:

- What if someone purposely wants the admin password not to be accessible?

- Maybe reset password to admin/12345 should also provoke a snapshot?

What do you think?

Solution

It is basically done, but only problem is that the admin is forced to change his password again after the reset, which is kind of silly. Once this is fixed, please close this feature request.

The show command for that is "reset", implemented r47180.
All is needed is a button in dev.to
