Description

From tiki-admin.php?page=cms (the articles admin page) when you go from Submissions checkbox = F to T the system doesn't automatically rebuild the Articles Menu to include the Submit Article command line.

Registered users then have no way of submitting an article because that command doesn't show up on their menu.

Solution

wipe out tiki cookie? Not sure this fixes the problem. Not a good option for all the registered users either.

It's because your modules are cached. If you click around, eventually, the links will appear. Please confirm.
