Description
   I created a profile long ago to test nested tracker demo.
   I applied it, and when reviewing the created tracker items, this is the error I get in a quite white screen (css broken):

   Fatal error: Call to a member function getField() on a non-object in /var/www/12.x/lib/trackers/trackerlib.php on line 726

   I've reproduced it in show.

   The error comes from a defective profile, as I'm seing right now. However, it would be much nicer if there a more informative type of error reporting to the user that there is some syntax problem in the field definition, etc.

Workaround
   Fix the profile 😀 (I'm giving it another shot to fix it)

   And maybe better error reporting to the user without breaking the tiki interface?

This is PHP Error reporting. Not sure how to make the error reporting more user friendly unless its done throughout Tiki. This is about having PHP reporting on and allowing developers to see the lines that create the error.
