Description

Using the latest 12 SVN version, trying to translate a page results in the "compare page" shown below the editor.

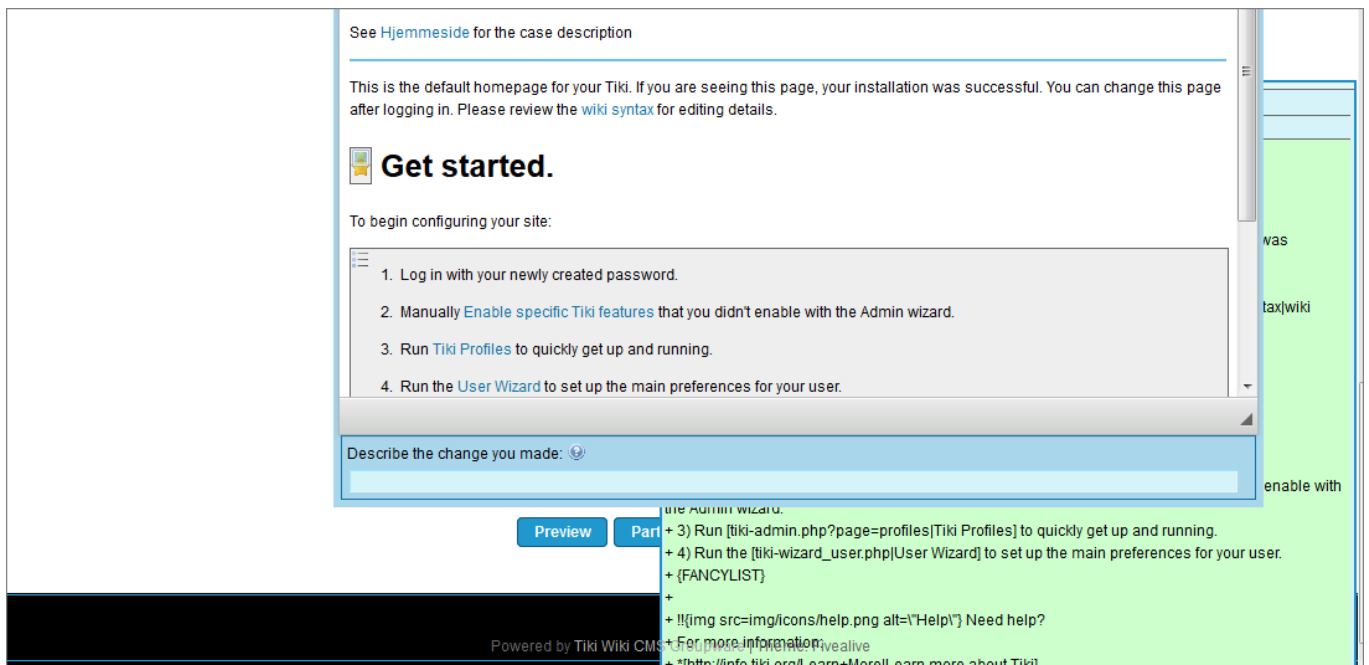

The editor buttons are/can be hidden by the "compare page".

See show instance.

Here's a screencast

...I am unable to record a video. jcapture fails with an encoding error.

Trying an image

From show instance

Lorem Ipsum shows a worse case. It becomes impossible to save the translation.

1) Go to Lorem Ipsum.no

2) Edit page

3) Click on outgoing translation

..leads to the "reference" covering the background. Since the action buttons have a lower z-order, it becomes impossible to save the translation.

Sorry, it's a huge task to get side-by-side translation to work with wysiwyg - i thought i disabled it a while ago, looks like someone re-enabled it... dull
