Description

Main app menu in side column not translated anymore

Site lang changed to spanish, for instance, and the main application menu shown in the side column is still shown in English. The rest of Tiki insterface seems to be shown as translated (provided that the strings are trnaslated, of course).

But the basic strings in the main app menu are mostly translated since years ago, and they are nowadays shown always in English.

Solution

51457 FIX enable translation for bootstrapped menu items (tr tags were missing in tpl)

Fixed, thanks!

r51298: it happens if the menu is in the left column, if it is on the right, menuitems are translated eg: mod-menu.tpl line 20: if the param "bootstrap=basic" is removed, it gets translated, so I guess something in function.menu.php is causing this commit 51327 improved params, some problems remained:

- if the menu is included both left and right, and you click on expanding a section on the right, it expands the menu on the left
- right column not translated anymore
- menu layout is too tight due to tiki.css .panel-body ol, .panel-body ul (line 465) and panel-body ul (line 473)

these classes are quite general, not sure what to do with them
