Description

In Tiki 13, the Admin Modules is always reverting back to the 1st tab and is making the page extremely unusable.

An attempt was made at Tikifest to fix it by using the new way to set the tab via anchor, but it seem to take effect only if coming from other pages, not from the current page. What is a possible fix then? To split up the admin modules page into multiple pages, or to do actions through more AJAX services perhaps?

Workaround

note: mani is working on various fixes.

using services and modals it would be easy to admin module settings anywhere in tiki (just show a cog icon in the module header, click and the module settings come in a modal)
