- 12.2: Install with InnoDB never ends the db population step

Description
Not sure if it's due to a combination of MySQL version, PHP settings, or InnoDB, but installer times out in some cases when doing a FRESH install (not upgrade).

HI Nelson

I tried today with Tiki13.x, in the same computer, and brand new installation using MySQLi and InnoDB worked fine.

This problem should now be fixed.
However, the fix requires that a new tiki-secdb sql file is generated. Thus it will only be effective at the next release.

The fix is
Start the tiki-secdb sql file with: start transaction;
and end with: commit;

I could only fix it by commenting out everything in tiki_fulltext_indexes.sql AND increasing open files limit. see http://duntuk.com/how-raise-ulimit-open-files-and-mysql-openfileslimit Any other suggestions?

Looks like even though the browser times out the sql continues to run, if I wait long enough it completes. Interesting. It must be a performance issue on this server.... I suppose one workaround is to install as MyISAM and then run tiki_convert_myisam_to_innodb.sql
